Publishing

Publish builds the site into docs/, commits, and pushes. GitHub Pages, set to serve docs/ from the main branch, has the new pages a minute later.

The build copies the web app in, writes a manifest and a search index, and makes one shell page per route with the page's title and summary in meta tags, so a link to a page unfurls in chat.